Celebrating Miracles and Milestones—July, 2013

Kovler is honored to host another international forum in Chicago in July 2013 at the Marriott on Michigan Avenue. We invite you to learn more about “Celebrating Miracles and Milestones” and how you and your company can help make this meeting happen.

2013 Celebrating Miracles and Milestones will build upon 2010’s successful meeting reaching hundreds of families across the country to attend. This Family Forum is the center for the latest in management of Monogenic Diabetes, the latest research updates, data analysis on the hundreds of cases found each year, community awareness and networking. In addition, a Continuing Medical Education Conference (CME) will be held for health care professionals across the US looking to learn the latest on Monogenic Diabetes and how it can impact their diabetes patients.

Families will travel to Chicago from as far away as Alaska and Venezuela to share their stories and learn about the latest monogenic diabetes research. The unique nature of this medical miracle makes the need for this conference even greater. However, critical funding is needed to cover costs associated with bringing the most up-to-date clinical and scientific information to individuals, families, and healthcare professionals.

The weekend will conclude with a medical education conference for hundreds of physicians, nurses, and other health care professionals interested in learning how best to diagnosis and treat monogenic diabetes.

July 17–20, 2013 will be a weekend to be INSPIRED and continue to CELEBRATE THE MIRACLES and MILESTONES...
