Are you overweight and worried about developing diabetes?

Do you have a family history of diabetes?

Has a health care provider ever spoken to you about high blood sugar?

If you answered YES to any of these questions, then you may be at high risk for developing diabetes.

The RISE Study is looking for people like you. Take the risk test at www.RISEstudy.org to see if you are at risk for developing diabetes or contact your local site at:

University of Chicago
773-702-4295
arue@medicine.bsd.uchicago.edu
ktemple@medicine.bsd.uchicago.edu

Study drugs and medical visits will be provided at no cost. Compensation will be provided to participants. Risks and benefits will be disclosed prior to enrollment.